

nFusion Technologies, LLC

Technology From End To End

Company History

- Company was founded in March 2000 and named Matrix Network Systems
- Customers and assets were purchased from Office Systems Integrators in early 2000 and merged into Matrix
- Changed our name to nFusion Technologies in May 2003 and moved to our current location in downtown Jeffersonville, Indiana

Company Briefs

- Partnerships with industry leading companies like Microsoft, Novell, Dell Citrix, Vertias, Toshiba, D-Link, Linksys and hp
- nFusion systems engineers have various levels of certification and experience with Microsoft, Novell, Citrix, Unix and Linux software

Our Mission

nFusion Technologies is a full-service computer, data and network systems integrator providing value-added technology solutions to small and mid-sized businesses within a 75 mile radius of the Louisville, KY metropolitan area.

Our Clients

The typical clients for nFusion are:

- Companies with 50 users or less and up to 200 employees.
- Companies without an IT staff
- Companies which are understaffed from IT perspective
- Companies with IT staffs lacking expertise in specific computer, software or networking technologies

Services Provided

Technology Consulting

Hardware Sales & Service

Helpdesk Services

Services Provided

LAN/WAN Networking

Internet & eCommerce

Wireless & Network Cabling

Services Provided

Voice/Telephony Services

Project Management

Why Choose nFusion?

Lower Your Information Technology Costs

- It is expensive to maintain a full-time IT staff but with nFusion you will only incur costs for the work done with a 100% satisfaction money back guarantee.
- nFusion provides an extremely affordable and extremely simple rate structure that meets any company's financial requirements.
- No hidden charges or sliding rate scales to surprise you!

Why Choose nFusion?

Increasing Your Operational Efficiencies

- If your IT project needs are larger or you need specific systems expertise that your company cannot afford to provide at this moment, nFusion can help supplement your technical staff with expert knowledge to get the job done quickly and with the least amount of effort.

Need Another Reason?

OLIVE

The On-Line Incident Verification Environment system

- nFusion Technologies has created this innovative on-line IT management system with our customers in mind
- Quickly request assistance from one of our engineers whether they are dispatched to your location or remotely access your site via dial-up or Internet
- Track the nFusion employee's progress as they work your problem and pull centralized reports on the outcome as a part of an overall historical repair log for your company

Conclusion

nFusion Technologies is your only source for end to end business technology solutions!